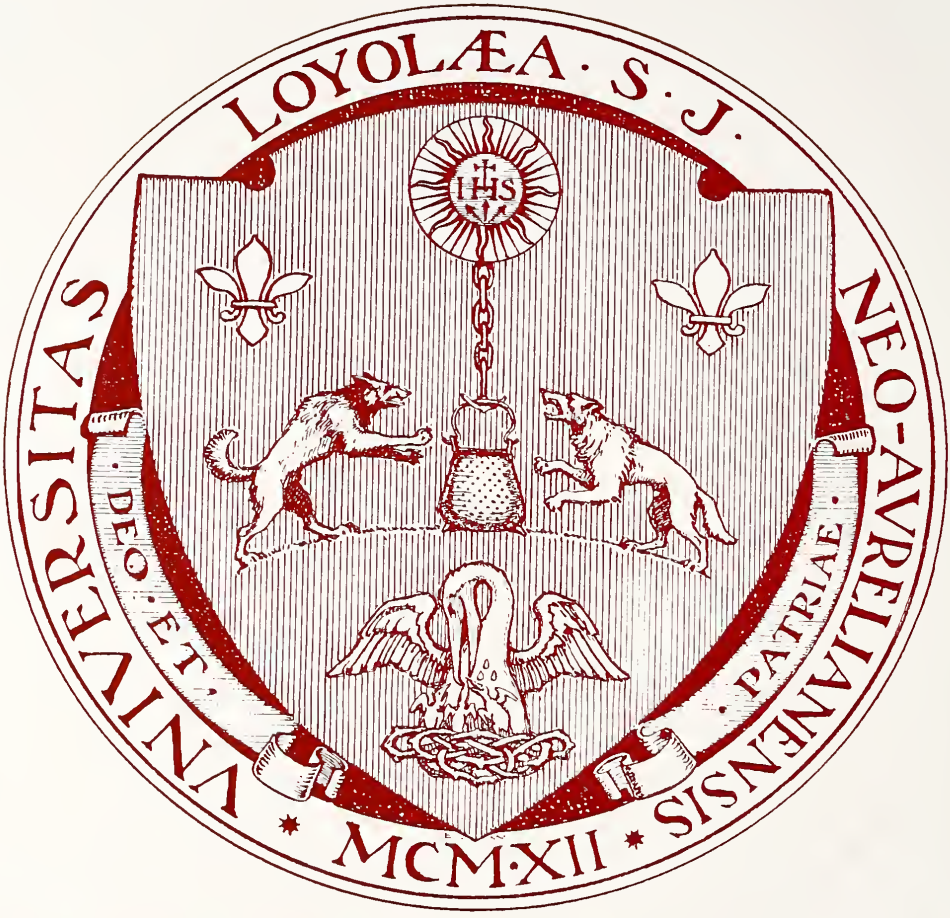
GENERAL OF THE SOCIETY OF JESUS

To the General of the Society of Jesus . . . The Very Reverend John B. Janssens, S.J. . . . in appreciation for the years of loyal service to Christ . . . . by the Society of Jesus . . . . and on the occasion of the 100th anniversary of the return of the Society to the Archdiocese of New Orleans . . . . we, the students of Loyola University of the South, ... do respectfully and sincerely . . . . dedicate this Annual . . . . of the scholastic year of 1947-48.

DEDICATION

The Seal of Loyola



Loyola's Jesuit character is symbolized in the seal by the coat of arms of the ancient House of Loyola, whose distinguished son, Ignatius, founded the Society of Jesus. We see a deep pot, symbolizing the hospitality of the House of Loyola, hanging from hook and chain, with two wolves about to rest their paws on the rim. Surmounting this is a monogram of the Society.

The Pelican, feeding the young with its own blood, depicts Loyola as an institution of the State of Louisiana, whose French origin is recalled by the "fleur de-lis" in the upper corner of the shield. The crest of the House of Loyola serves also as a symbol of influence in Louisiana's early history.

The words "Deo et Patriae," epitome of Christian aspirations, point to Loyola's objective in the education of youth—"For God and Country."

FOREWORD

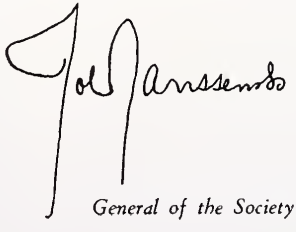
TO THE STUDENTS OF LOYOLA UNIVERSITY OF THE SOUTH

To join with you in celebrating this centennial year of the return of the Jesuits to New Orleans, to rejoice with you over the triumphs of these hundred years of steady progress and development, is a source of sincere happiness to me. Who can measure the generosity, the devotion, the sacrifices of faculty, students, alumni and friends during all these years? From the humble beginnings of the College of the Immaculate Conception, which received its charter on that momentous December day in 1847, has grown up the modern Loyola of the South, a nationally known university, with its beautiful campus and Tudor Gothic buildings and its enrollment running into thousands. To these pioneers who have gone before, to all those who have helped in the building of this great center of Catholic culture and learning, we of today owe a debt of gratitude, for it is because of their labors and liberality that you, the students of 1948, have the opportunity of a Catholic education.

In a world atmosphere of hate and distrust, a world engulfed in the darkness of atheism, cynicism, materialism, a world that for all its scientific progress knows so much of hunger and cold, of loneliness and tears and despair —the result of its erroneous philosophies and false education—you have the privilege of forming yourselves into the Christian ideal, of examining and evaluating the whole universe according to principles of Catholic philosophy, of living your life in the light of Catholic theology.

Yours is a privilege, but it is also a serious responsibility, not only for yourselves but for the world of men and women among whom you will live in later years. Our Blessed Lord told His Apostles: "You are the light of the world. . . So let your light shine before men that they may see your good works and glorify your Father Who is in heaven." You, too, must bring light to your own little worlds. You must be leaders! Your responsibility is to impart to others the light of truth that you have received, God's truth, that alone can make them truly free. By your life, even more than by your words, you must disperse the darkness in minds and hearts and souls. This is the challenge that your Catholic education holds out to you. This is the sacred trust that Loyola delivers into your hands.

Is is not without significance that the College from which Loyola has its beginning was dedicated to the Mother of God. She surely must look with particular love upon the students of a University which has its roots in the College of the Immaculate Conception. In this year of rejoicing and triumph, I commend you to her maternal care in a special way; I exhort you to turn to her with trust and confidence in every trial and every joy. I pray that she may help you to bring to life, to clothe, as it were, with your own flesh and blood, the high principles and noble ideals that Loyola gives to you. May her Divine Son fortify you with His richest graces and bless you with the light of His truth and the warmth of His love.



General of the Society of Jesus.

JESUITS RETURN

That the Society of Jesus played a major role in the Christianization and colonization of both North and South America is a matter of record. History presents long lists of Jesuit martyrs, missionaries, educators, explorers in the early periods of both the Americas. Jesuits were being martyred by Indians in what is now Virginia, near the present site of Washington, D. C., long before the English colonists set foot in that area, long before the Mayflower reached Massachusetts.

Although the Jesuits had penetrated into the Southland long before 1723, it was not until then that they were established in New Orleans. Between the years 1723 and 1763, a number of Jesuits missionaries fell victims to the very savages they sought to convert. Jesuit influence with the Indians was, however, considerable. The efforts of the missionaries greatly aided the development of the whole Louisiana colony.

In 1762, the Jesuits, victims of political intrigue, were banished from Louisiana. The year 1763 saw the last Jesuit departing from New Orleans. Eighty-four years rolled on, and then, in the year 1847, New Orleans witnessed the return of the Jesuit Order.

In 1857, the Jesuit Fathers opened, on Baronne St., the College and Church of the Immaculate Conception, dedicating both college and church to the Virgin Mother of God. Just three years previously, the doctrine of her Immaculate Conception had been defined as an Article of Faith by Pope Pius IX.

In 1889, Father John O'Shanahan, S. J., purchased for $22,500 a tract of land stretching from St. Charles Avenue to the Illinois Central Railroad tracks. In 1904, on a section of this property, an educational institution named Loyola College began functioning. In the infant days of the new college there were no indications of the great university it was destined to become. On the opening day, only six students registered. Cash on hand amounted to but $100. There was, however, on all sides, a realization of the desperate need for a Catholic university in the Southland. Many generous souls came to the aid of the struggling, little college. In 1912, it was incorporated. Loyola College became Loyola University.

Jesuits High School

Today, the University stands as a monument to the efforts and sacrifices of the Jesuit Fathers, and to the generosity of many noble-hearted benefactors. From Loyola University, New Orleans and the entire South receive men and women trained not only in mind, but also in heart and will; trained not only in mundane erudition and science, but also in the undiluted teachings of Jesus Christ. Never was the world in greater need of leaders so trained.

The Jesuits Fathers pay special devotion to the Sacred Heart of Jesus. At the entrance to the University stands a statue of the Sacred Heart. Its uplifted arms welcome to the University all who seek the Truth, the Way and the Life.

THE PRESIDENT

The Very Reverend

THOMAS J. SHIELDS, S. J.

Since 1945, when he first came to Loyola University, the Very Reverend Thomas J. Shields, S. J., President of the University, has endeared himself to both students and faculty.

His frank and congenial manner at convocations, his honesty and integrity when dealing with the faculty and students, his initiative and ingenuity in bettering the intellectual development of the University, are all manifestations of his high ideals and standards.

Because of his lofty aims he has become an example to all. He may truly be called a representative son of Loyola.

Father Shield gives friendly advice to students, Eldon Bonnet and Edwin Fricke.

DEAN OF FACULTIES

REV. A. WILLIAM CRANDELL, S.J.

Because of the genial and efficient manner in which he conducts his office, Father A. William Crandell, S. J., has exerted a profound influence on both students and faculty.

Besides being Dean of Faculties, Father Crandell also serves as Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, governing it with marked success.

His readiness to see the students at all times and to listen to their problems make him one of the most popular men of the faculty.

DEAN OF MEN

REV. LESTER F. X. GUTERL, S.J.

Rev. Lester F. X. Guterl, S. J., A.B., M.A., the Dean of Men, first came to Loyola in 1943. In his office, you will always find students wanting to know the "why" of University regulations. This may call for holding a place in a waiting line, but any student will find here a place to voice his opinion. Whether the reply be in the affirmative or negative, it is always accompanied with a grin.

Dean THOMAS D. SPEIDEL

B.S., M.S., D.D.S.

SCHOOL OF DENTISTRY

Dr. Thomas D. Speidel, M.S., B.S., D.D.S., came to Loyola as Dean in March, 1945, from the University of Indiana. Through his efforts, and with the aid of the University Board of Directors, a considerable number of changes were authorized for the Dental Department, which resulted in a rise in standards recognized by the Council on Dental Education of the American Dental Association this past year.

Dr. Speidel has served for many years as editor of the Journal of Dental Education. At present, he is president of the American Association of Dental Education.

SCHOOL OF LAW

Vernon X. Miller, A.B., LL.B., J.S.D. has been a member of the University's Faculty since 1938. Between 1940 and 1945, he twice served as Acting Dean of the School of Law. On December 15, 1945, Dr. Miller permanently assumed this position.

In the legal atmosphere of the Law School something of the Dean's dignity is felt, but outside the Law School he is just plain "Doc."

STEVE LOYOCANO
President

The first and rarest organization of its kind on Loyola's campus—YDEMOC—(comedy spelled backwards), was founded by Steve Loyacano to combine the talents of the student body into a humor club for the pleasure, enjoyment, and entertainment of the University.

Besides sponsoring plays, skits, and musicals on the amusing side, it is willing to lend its talents to any dramatic activity. Fun, humor, wit and comedy are the essentials of this unique organization.

American Pharmaceutical ASSOCIATION STUDENT BRANCH

An organization designed to prepare future pharmacists for their profession—such is the Student Branch of the American Pharmaceutical Association.

This organization also claims the distinction of having twice been honored as Loyola's most active club. The members are taught to make the public pharmacy-conscious and to keep themselves posted on current discoveries and improvements in drugs, remedies, and prescriptions; also to report on different topics of pharmacy and its practice. In this way, the members may learn the business angle of operating a drug store in addition to its pharmaceutical demands.

Celebrating its second year of active existence on the campus is Loyola's Amvets Post 28, which has the reputation of being the liveliest college post in the nation.

Dedicated to the principle "We Fought Together—Now Let's Build Together," Amvets had for its commander, Edward David, zealous student leader, who saw his organization as a connecting link between the vet-student and national affairs. Sponsor of many Congressional bills for the interest of the ex-servicemen, Amvets is seeking always to foster Americanism in its membership, and to strengthen democratic ideals.

The Little FLOWER SODALITY

CLAIRE LECARPENTIER
Prefect

Not only does Loyola train its students in matters of this world, but in matters of the world to come. The Little Flower Sodality benefits Loyola Coeds spiritually. The girls in the Sodality are those who work for Our Lady. Orphans are entertained; picnics are held; work is done for the University; retreats are sponsored annually. This year's hard working prefect was Claire Le Carpentier who made the Sodality one of the foremost organizations on the campus.

THE CHARLES BAILEY AWARD

Hayes L. Hebert, Jr. receives Charles H. Bailey Award from Very Reverend Thomas J. Shields, S.J.

Awarded for loyalty, scholastic ability, school spirit, leadership and service to Loyola University, the Charles H. Bailey Trophy is presented annually on award night to the outstanding student leader on the campus.

The recipient of this year's highest honor, Hayes L. Hebert, Jr., smiling Dental School Sophomore, has during the past scholastic year led all other students in activities. Besides being executive editor of the Wolf; he was secretary of XI PSI PHI; vice-president of the VET'S ASSOCIATION; vice-commander of AMVETS; treasurer of A.P.O. and the PEP CLUB; he was also an active and hard-working member in ten other organizations and fraternities.

All these activities combined made him the outstanding student-leader of Loyola for 1947-48.

This year's recipient edits the college annual

LAMBDA SIGMA LAMBDA AWARD

Reverend Thomas J. Shields, S.J., presents Lambda Sigma Lambda award to Rose Mary Gutierrez and Shirley Bickmann, ex aqueo.

Presented annually to the outstanding co-ed at Loyola, the Lambda Sigma Lambda Award typifies loyalty, school spirit, service, and leadership.

This year, the award was presented ex aequo to Rose Mary Gutierrez and Shirley Bickmann. Rose Mary is president of L.S.L. and recording secretary of the Pan-Hellinic Council. Her writing ability has made her a competent reporter for the Maroon. She is also a sodalist of Our Lady.

Shirley is vice-president of L.S.L., vice-president of the Pharmacy School, a member of the Student Council, a member of both Kappa Epsilon and Rho Chi scholastic fraternities, and she, too, is a sodalist.

The hard work and long hours contributed by these two young ladies make them deserving of this award.

Rose Mary Gutierrez and Shirley Bickmann combine their efforts in governing L. S. L.

CAMPUS QUEEN AND HER COURT

November is the month in which the University students select the Queen of the Campus from the coed student body.

Individuals, organizations and fraternities compete for their choice by contributions to the local Community Chest fund. The young lady receiving the highest number of votes is then honored as Loyola's Campus Queen. Her court of six maids are chosen by the same process.

The winner of this year's contest, Miss AUDREY KELLER, a personable junior education coed from Gretna, La., was crowned at the Annual Talent Night Show and later reigned at the Blue Key-Student Council dance.

Campus Queen Audrey Keller presents first place trophy to Al Becker, while Blue Key President Warren Mouledoux presents Blue Key banner.

Talent Night means many different things to many different students. To some, it is a means of letting off emotional steam. To some, it is a stepping-stone to theatrical success. Others see it as a way of showing their classmates that they're not the shy, shrinking violets they appear to be in the classrooms. Others regard it as an implement for getting even with some recalcitrant professor, while still others look upon it as a healthy form of inter-fraternity competition.

To everyone, though, talent Night is invaribly an evening crammed with convivial fun, which spreads over a wide variety of entertainment.

Sponsored annually by Blue Key, national honor fraternity, Talent Night, this year, was won by Al Becker, junior journalism student, who stammered, spluttered and fidgeted for six minutes in a dead-pan, Benchleyesque comic monologue entitled "The Treasurer's Report."

For the second year in a row, the trophy for third place was won by the quartet known as "The Big Four." Composed of Bob and Eustace Sherman, Pat Crane and E. J. Smith, the group caught the judges' eyes with their harmonizing of "In My Merry Oldsmobile."

The fraternity award was won by Sigma Alpha Kappa, who burlesqued campus life.

S. A. K. takes first place in the fraternity section with their interpretation of a college registration.

MOST POPULAR MALE . . . Tom Daly

To the victors belong the spoils, and here are those chosen by the students as their "Best" for 1947-48 . . . by a popular vote among the students these individuals were selected as outstanding in the annual Popularity Contest. . .

Capturing two places was that ever smiling Tom Daly, from Jersey. Elected Best Dressed last year, he repeated again this year, adding the title of most Popular Student to his list of achievements. Accompanying Tom, as most Popular Co-ed, was Dorothy De Rouen, with Tommy Favret receiving the title of Best Dressed

CONTEST

MOST POPULAR COED . . . Dorothy DeRouen

MOST HANDSOME MALE . . . Levy Laborde

Co-ed. In the glamour department, Molly Leslie and Levy Laborde walked off with the high honors, Molly being selected the Prettiest Co-ed, and Levy the most handsome male on the campus. Two of the most active students this year were Charles Glueck and Rose Mary Gutierrez. "Red" Hultberg was the class of the field in the muscles department winning the Best Athlete title in a landslide—as was Tony Liuzza, that zany bass fidler of the Moods, in being selected the Wittiest Student.

THE ALUMNI

endeavors to foster a spirit of union, co-operation and fellowship between its members and the University. In this way, it hopes to provide a zealous group of graduates to promote the welfare, the growth, and the interest of Loyola University. It also strives to develop closer association and cooperation between the sons and daughters of Loyola whether they be graduates or undergraduates.

Twenty-two students represent the different Schools and Colleges of the University in the 1947-48 edition of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. These students were chosen by members of the Student Council, subject to appointment of the Deans, on the basis of scholastic achievement, extra-curricular activity, popularity among their fellow students, and loyalty to the University.

The Who's Who serves as an index to future employers of College graduates by listing a biographical sketch of the individual, his comments on current events, art, music and literature.

The surprise and enjoyment of the new members when they found they were elected to Rho Chi . . . Harry Cover doing a wonderful job as President of the College of Pharmacy . . . John Kellerman being the only Pharmacy member in Alpha Sigma Nu . . . Sr. Clarrissa's friendly smile . . . the long hours in the dispensing lab . . . the brilliance of Sr. Loyola . . . Shirley Bickmann always being the last one finished . . . the swell job Bill Grace did with the Pharmacy Journal . . . Dependable Mr. Cosgrove bowling with the faculty every Sunday . . . the wonderful banquet when the keys were given out . . . Sr. Lucille always being ready to help everyone . . . the professional lectures and advice that Dean McCloskey gives . . . and the help from Dr. Ireland . . . the exciting trip to Lily's . . . and the end of the year when so many of the members said "so long."

Sister Mary Loyola Hegarty, C.C.V.I. receives congratulations from President Thomas J. Shields, S.J. at graduation.

Though the University has graduated many of its students with honors, it is rare that an individual attains a magna cum laude degree. Sister Mary Loyola Hegarty, C.C.V.I., made a 2.95 average during her four year study in the College of Pharmacy, her mark being the highest in the forty year history of the College.

SPORTS

Jack Orsley

This man who has a remarkable talent for turning out winning basketball teams assumed the position of Head Coach and Athletic Director in the Fall of 1940 when football was dropped at Loyola. From the start, he began moulding splendid basketball squads of which Loyola could well be proud.

Coach Orsley's first accomplishment was the Dixie Championship team of 1942. His greatest achievement, however, came in 1945 when he coached a Loyola squad to a national title. He has produced such fine players as Steve Marcev, "Whitey" Jackson, Sam Trombatore, and "Red" Hultberg.

THE COACHING STAFF

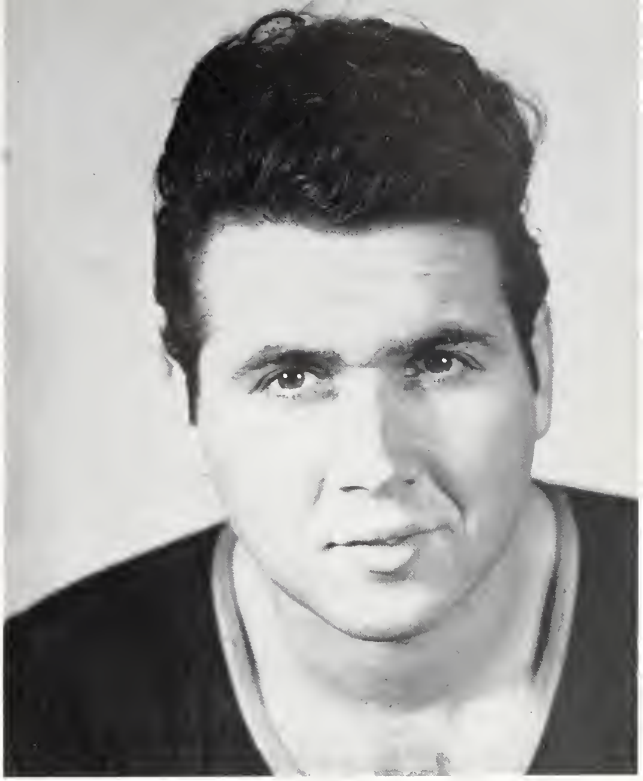
Jim McCafferty

"Big" Jim, one of the finest basketball players Loyola ever had, returned after graduation in 1942 as assistant coach. One of his chief duties is the direction of the famous "Wolfpups," his own brainchild. Since their conception, Coach McCafferty has led them through three highly successful seasons in the local AAU league. Through his guidance and efforts many of the "Wolfpups" have become expert enough to warrant a position on the varsity squad.

Sam Trombatore

The curly-haired "All American" has come to the end of a brilliant career on the hardwood at Loyola. During his stay here he amassed a total of 1647 points for the Wolfpack in the course of one hundred games.

An ex-Aloysian, Sam was the mainstay of the Maroon and Gold quintet during the seasons of '41-'42 and '42-'43. Because of his prowess and ability to hit the basket accurately, he was voted All-American. After a hitch in the armed forces, he returned in 1946 to bolster an already magnificent squad of veterans. During the past two years Sam led the Pack to heights next to those reached by the National Intercollegiate Championship team of 1945.



CO-CAPTAINS

Robert "Blackie" Rhem

"Blackie," one of Loyola's eagle-eyed ball hawks, helped pace the Pack this season with a total of 142 points. As a member of the starting five, he was constantly a thorn in the sides of the Wolves' opponents. This diminutive cager is a past master at defense, and also possesses an uncanny ability to snatch passes from under the very noses of opposing players.

BASKETBALL

Sparked by seven of the '46-'47 mainstays, the Loyola Wolves went through their 30-game season, winning 20.

The Wolves warmed up first with the Kessler Airmen of Biloxi, Mississippi, trimming them 73-31 in the first encounter and 70-58 in the second.

Sam Trombatore, Loyola's All-American cager, paced the team in both games, scoring a total of 43 points.

The Pensacola Fliers met the same fate as their predecessors, being drubbed 83-31.

Loyola's Wolves then decided to engage the "Cowboys" of the University of Houston and with the help of the dark horse, Red Hultberg, who scored a total of 33 points for the series, sent the Texans back home defeated 54-36 and 62-49.

On the road, Loyola's apple cart was upset with four consecutive losses—the first at the hands of Louisiana Tech 48-44. Later Loyola dropped a thriller to Centenary 35-33, but Abilene College and Texas Wesleyan widened the margin 60-50 and 67-40 respectively.

SUSPENSE ! ! !

VARSITY SQUAD

It was an improved Wolfpack that brought Loyola a delayed Christmas present by registering a remarkable 65-53 victory over the highly touted and much publicized Georgetown "5," and it was also the same improved team that was humbled in its annual homecoming game by a previously non-victorious Pitt quintet 47-45.

With Hugh Oser adding his name to the list of Wolves' scoring stars, the Pack defeated a hard fighting Chattanooga quintet 52-40. Then followed an apparently easy game with Mississippi Southern. Here Loyola met rough resistance in downing them 41-40.

The Wolfpack journeyed to Jacksonville, Alabama, to meet the topnotch Jacksonville State Teachers. Before meeting Loyola, the Jacksonville quintet had been undefeated in 10 games. The fast-moving Pack subdued the Teachers 54-46 in what turned out to be a very rough game.

Loyola then called on the Chattanooga Moccasins in Chattanooga. Playing a phenomenal game, the Moccasins turned back the Men of the South 43-39.

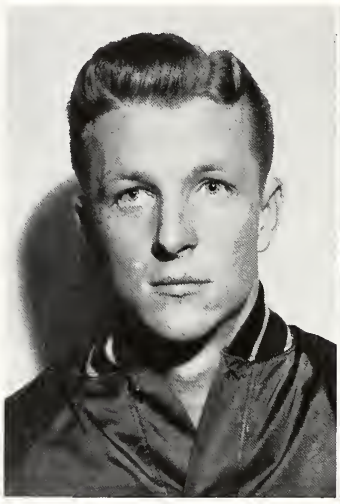
The big game of the season stood before Loyola. The Pack was to face its arch-rival, the Bayou Bengals of the Louisiana State. Coach Orsley, eager for a victory over the Bengals, still remembered the Wolves' one point loss to the Tigers last season. Loyola's offensive machine clicked brilliantly to defeat the Tigers 49-42.

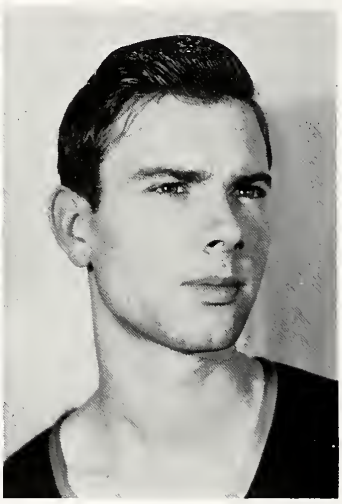
The now torrid team blazed a 46-42 victory over Mississippi College. After this, the Wolves squeezed past Spring Hill College of Mobile 47-45. Pensacola's Fliers fell before the now roaring onslaught of the Loyola quint, 79-55.

Loyola's Wolfpack, still in style, reversed a previous setback by beating the Centenary Gents 55-45. Hultberg, Oser and Jim Bonck hit the basket consistently in this victory.



WILLIAM TREUTING

HEWITT THIAN



GEORGE "PANCHO" VILLA

Sammy Trombatore started the ball rolling, never to be stopped until the Pack had garnered its sixth straight win by defeating Louisiana Tech's Bulldogs, 58-43.

The Maroon and Gold hoopmen next invaded the Midwest to engage some of the topnotch cage crews of Wisconsin and Illinois. On the first stop of their four-game road trip the Wolfpack dropped a 71-41 decision to the Goldmen of Beloit.

Bradley Tech's Braves, one of the nation's four best quints, followed with a 96-52 thrashing of the Wolves. Yet Sam Trombatore was high-point man with 18 points.

PETER FINNEY

JOHNNY CASTEIX

JAMES BONCK

The Illinois Northern Tigers left a bad taste in the Pack's mouth with a 65-61 lacing.

On Mardi Gras day, the Marquette Hilltoppers mercilessly trounced the travel-weary Wolves, 81-52.

Back from their trip, the Loyola cagers faced the Tigers of Louisiana State. The game furnished thrills from start to finish as the Wolfpack fought an uphill battle to gain a last second 46-45 victory. Oser, the freshman sensation, tied the score and the amazing Trombatore, seconds later, dropped in a free throw to win the contest.

The Wolfpack finished its season in glorious style as it squelched the Louisiana College Lions twice by scores of 50-47 and 76-42. In the first contest Hultberg and Villa were the stars with eleven points apiece and in the second, Bonck and Trombatore with 19 and 18 tallies respectively, led the scoring parade.

With a final record of twenty wins against ten losses, Loyola was one of the top college teams in the state of Louisiana. The Pack, in defeating such teams as L. S. U., Georgetown, Spring Hill and Mississippi College, averaged over 54 points per game. The outstanding individuals from the standpoint of scoring composed a sextet headed by Trombatore. "Sinkin" Sam totaled 376 points and was closely followed by "Red" Hultberg with 266. Next was Jim Bonck with 191 points, Hugh Oser with 153 points, "Blackie" Rhem with 142 and "Pancho" Villa with 141. These six totaled 1569 of Loyola's grand total of 1621 points for the season.

In spite of some inconsistency, the 1948 Wolfpack proved to be, on the whole, a true credit to Loyola University of the South.

THE WOLFPUPS

1948 saw a Wolfpup Team that left one of the best records in its short history. Its first loss at the hands of an NOAC contingent came only after 26 straight wins. The juniors merited a place in the NAAU finals in Denver, Colorado, by whipping the Royal Crowns of Shreveport 49-44. After this victory, they were crowned Dixie AAU champions. In the national tournament, the Pups lost in the first round by a one-point margin to a team composed of experienced college players. Three of Jim McCafferty's players, Rankin Vasterling, Beanie Shirer and Jack Eumont were chosen for the All-Star Dixie AAU Team. These three were outstanding throughout the campaign, but every man contributed nobly to the team's splendid record.

B A S E B A L L

With the return of eleven 1947 lettermen in baseball, Loyola looked forward to a great year on the diamond. Playing an eighteen-game schedule, the Pack won eleven and lost seven.

In its first game, the Loyola nine engaged the Kessler Field Fliers at Biloxi, Miss. Gus Riordan started on the mound for the Wolves and was marked with the first loss. He was touched for 12 safeties during the game. For Loyola, Weldon Cousins, in the ninth with two on base, hit his first homer of the year. Arnoult got three hits for the Pack. Final score, Kessler 7, Loyola 4.

Loyola entertained the Airmen in the Crescent City by beating them 15-7. Ellis Quigley received credit for the win but received help from rookie, Don Hug.

In a two-game series with Bradley Tech, from Illinois, played in New Orleans, Loyola got a double lacing. Shut out 6-0 in the first game, Riordan was the loser. In the second Tommy Wedig lost 6-4.

Illinois Northern next engaged the Pack here only to be sent home defeated in two contests. Riordan and Quigley were the winners by scores of 5-1 and 13-7.

Wildness and errors on the part of his mates caused Don Hug to lose his first assignment of the year at the hands of the Southeastern squad. Hug issued 12 walks and lost by a score of 13-3.

Riordan got his second win at the expense of Northwestern College. He gave but six safeties and fanned 10. The score was 11-3, as Caballero, Cousins and White supplied the necessary batting punch for the Pack.

Loyola split a series with Illinois Wesleyan, winning the first encounter 5-3 behind the five-hit pitching of Ellis Quigley. He received great support from Weldon Cousins, Money Caballero and Al Weidermann. In the second game, with the Illinois invaders, the Loyola pitching staff was viciously attacked. Wedig started but gave way in the fourth to Don Murphy who in turn was relieved by Don Hug. The trio gave a total of 17 hits and 15 runs. Weidemann and Cresson had a great day at the plate for the Pack, but to no avail. Final score read, Loyola 2, Wesleyan 15.

Loyola played host to Spring Hill College by beating them 4-0 behind the four-hit pitching of Gus Riordan. He fanned six and walked three.

Quigley's next victim was Northwestern College. The star of the staff set down the opponents 7-4. A homer by Cousins sparked the victory.

He also starred at the plate, with Cousins and Villa adding their power.

The last two games of the season were victories for Loyola. Vasterling won the first, and Quigley the second. The victims were Southeastern by the score of 10-5, and Mississippi Southern, 4-2.

Except for an occasional off-day, the record of Loyola's baseball team of 1948 was notable. Weldon Cousins hit an even 400, to lead the batters.

The outstanding individual was pitcher Ellis Quigley. It was his first year in organized ball of any kind, yet he won 6 in as many starts.

BOWLING CHAMPS

STRIKE ! ! ! That was a familiar cry during the newly formed Loyola Bowling League. Since its conception, through the efforts of Jerry Lacey, it has been one of the most popular and spirited student functions. In both the Men's and Women's divisions the competition was keen and very close during the past year.

teams commanded the first round, but the second round was very much closer. A. P. O. Service Fraternity and the Pharmacy aggregation battled it out for the lead tooth and nail all the way, resulting in a first place deadlock, between the two teams. In a playoff A. P. O. came through in fine form to win the Men's Championship by virtue of a 2 to 1 victory over the fighting Pharmacy boys. While this terrific battle was being staged the L. S. L. Sorority coasted to an easy championship over their worthy opponents in the Women's Division.

As the summer months rolled around, the student and faculty bowlers laid plans for a vacation to rest up and be in condition for the coming fall, but these plans failed to materialize as the students formed a Summer League to keep fit. So much interest had been stimulated during the winter that the officers of the League had to draw up a summer schedule consisting of 12 teams for the Men's Division. The Women's Division did go on their vacations, but all are looking forward to the opening of the Fall League in September.

Beggars' stalwarts stop A.D.G.'s offense

INTRAMURALS

Intramural competition this year was ushered in with the interfraternity grid contests. Beggars Frat was acclaimed champion after decisively downing all opposition.

Though the touch-football was slow in starting because of wet weather, the League championship was eventually decided through an elimination tourney in which the Soph. III captured first place.

The Junior III squad acquired the Intramural cage title after plenty of tough going. After the smoke had cleared, their record stood at eight wins and no losses.

Next was the star-studded Intramural Track meet in which records were broken right and left. Wally Barbot was the high point man of the meet, but Elmer Grundmeyer was the biggest surprise of the day. He won the 75 yard dash by setting a new mark at 7.8 seconds, and the 100 yard dash in 11 seconds flat.

Other standouts were: Ray Bordes, pole vault; Bill Treuting, high jump; Jack Eumont, broad jump; Al Wiedermann, 120 yard hurdles; Claude Perrier, discus; Al Georgio, 440 yard dash; and Bill Waguespack, 880 yard run.

With an increased interest in tennis among Loyolans the intramural net tourney experienced keen competition. The championship was won by Ken Crumley who defeated Jack Fox in the finals 6-0 and 6-4.

Is this football or basketball?

Pole-vault champ, Ray Bordes, soars to a new mark

Kneeling: Ephen Macaluso, G. Van Greffen, Pete Tusa, Ellis Quigley, Tom Wedig, Ruddy Nieto.

Standing: Roger Meunier, Louis Di Rosa, Roy Champagne, James Grosetsch.
Kneeling: Frank Petkovsek, Henry Illenberger, Patrick Buttimer, James Flanagan. Insets: Salbadore Maggiore, Charles Glueck, Raymond Kitiziger.

Elmer Grundmeyer, A&S Sophomore finishes first in the 75 yd. dash breaking the existing record. Time, 7.8 sec

"Over 60 Years in Business"

135 Carondelet Street New Orleans 12, La.

During the war I never had any serious doubts with regard to our winning it, even in the black days preceding the great Battle of Midway, but I did have grave misgivings as to the winning of the peace.

Those misgivings have proven justified. In this year of Our Lord nineteen hundred and forty-seven we are living in a chaotic world. The nations and the peoples of the world are passing through a stage of the evolution of civilization that has wrenched men's minds out of joint. This evolution is a genuine revolution that reaches down and upsets all the levels of human life, social, economic, political, military. No man living can foretell the future, whether it will be weal or woe for the human race.

With everything in this precarious balance, with the happiness or the despair of billions of human beings hanging in the scales, it is high time for every intelligent man and woman to clear out the static of his or her own mind, to discard all erroneous principles or irrelevant thoughts, so that he and she may take their definite stand in this worldwide debate and strife on the side that will weigh down the scales in favor of real progress, right living and right dying happiness for men here and now and for the eternal hereafter. We have to ACT right if the human race, including ourselves, is to be saved. To act right, we must THINK right.

Where can you take time off to clean out your attic? Where can you clear up your mind so that you can think right and thereafter act right? Far and away the best place I know of is Manresa.

Those who have seriously made a three days' retreat will vouch for that statement, and will tell you that a retreat is the finest, most enlightening, most comforting and happiest experience of their spiritual lives.

Your Future and the Middle South

Probably no location in America today offers greater possibilities for college trained men and women than the Middle South—the rapidly developing region of Arkansas, Mississippi and Louisiana. New and expanding industries, a growth in income exceeding the United States as a whole, and tremendous developments of agricultural, transportation and natural resources have opened unlimited opportunities here for you. When you think of your future—think of a location with a future—the Middle South.
